

REMARKS

The above amendment is in response to a request by the Office of Patent Publication communicated to Applicants via a telephone call from Examiner Williams on July 2, 2007. On page 9, line 14, of the specification, the printer caused garbled characters to appear. The amendment above complies with the guidelines of 37 CFR 1.312, adds no new matter and does not change the scope thereof. Although the issue fee has already been paid for this application, the present amendment is proper because it was requested by the Office of Patent Publication and it merely presents the text of the application, as filed, without garbled characters. Since this amendment neither raises new issues nor requires further search or examination, entry is respectfully requested.
